GERMAN LANGUAGE GUIDE

German is spoken by over 80 million people in Germany, Austria and parts of Switzerland and Czechoslovakia. There are a number of local variations of German and sometimes you will hear people speaking in a way that seems quite different from what is shown in this Guide. However, almost everybody also speaks, or at least understands, the form of German given here, which is the one taught in the German schools.

How to Use the Records and Guide

This Guide is not intended to give you a complete command of the language. For a thorough course, write to the United States Armed Forces Institute, Madison, Wisconsin. This handbook will, however, enable you to carry on simple conversations in the language.

The records that go with this Guide give you a number of the most important words and phrases in German. Read the section called Hints on Pronunciation and then listen to the records until you know the Useful Words and Phrases by heart. Repeat each word out loud right after you hear it and say it exactly the way the German speaker does. Imitate the pronunciation as closely as you can, just as you might mimic someone who has an unusual accent. Try to get every detail of the pronunciation, even the rhythm and the intonation. Follow the words in your Guide but use them only as a reminder; if you hear something different from what you see written, go by what you hear. Remember that you can't get the sound of a language from the printed word alone—you have to use your ears even more than your eyes. If you don't have the records and can't get a German speaker to read the words, you will have to rely on the Hints on Pronunciation alone.

By the time you have practiced the Useful Words and Phrases several times you will know what sound each letter stands for in the Guide. You will then be able to pronounce the Additional Expressions even though you have not actually heard them and you will be able to form sentences of your own by using the section called Fill-In Sentences.

Hints on Pronunciation

If you have studied German before, you may not need additional practice in pronunciation. However, unless you have had a chance to try out your German and know that you are understood without any difficulty, you had better do a little practicing.

All the words and phrases in this Guide are written both in German spelling and in a simplified spelling which you read like English. (Don't use the German spelling, the one given in parentheses, unless you have studied German before.) Read the simplified spelling as though it were English. Each letter or combination of letters is used for the sound it usually stands for in English and it always stands for that sound. Thus, oo is always pronounced as it is in too, boot, tooth, roost, never as anything else. Say these words and then pronounce the vowel sound by itself. That is the sound you must use every time you see oo in the Pronunciation column. If you should use some other sound—for example, the sound of oo in blood—you may be misunderstood.

Syllables that are accented, that is, pronounced louder than others, are written in capital letters. Curved lines () are used to show sounds that are pronounced together without any break; for example, P_FEN-nik meaning "pfennig," P_FEF-fer meaning "pepper."

Special Points

Here are a few points to note as you listen to the records:

AY as in may, say, play but don't drawl it the way we do in English. Example: TAY meaning "tea."

O or OH as in go, so, oh, note, joke but don't drawl it the way we do in English. Example: VO meaning "where."

AI as in aisle or ice. Example: AINSS meaning "one."

EW stands for a sound we do not have in English. To make it you round your lips as though to say the oo in boo and at the same time say the ee in bee. Example: gub-MEW-zub meaning "vegetables."

ER stands for a sound somewhat like the one in her except that you round your lips as you make the sound. Example: TSVERLF meaning "twelve."

KH stands for a sound something like the one you make when you clear your throat to spit. Example: NAHKH meaning "toward."

Memory Key

- AY as in day but not so drawled.
- O or OH as in go but not so drawled.
- AI as in aisle or ice.
- EW for the sound in bee said with the lips rounded.
- ER for the sound in her said with the lips rounded.
- KH for a sound which is like the one you make when you clear your throat to spit.

USEFUL WORDS AND PHRASES

The following is the exact wording of the German Language Records issued with this Guide:

These records give you a few useful phrases in German. To learn to say these phrases so that you will be understood, imitate the sounds exactly as you hear them. You will hear the English first, followed by the German; then repeat the German out loud, and say it good and loud. Remember! Repeat every German phrase right after you hear it.

In the German Language Guide which should be used with these records, all the phrases you will hear are written both in German spelling and in a simplified spelling which you read like English. Don't use the German spelling unless you have studied German before.

Listen to the records six or seven times and you will know the phrases by heart.

a toilet	ai-nuh twa-LET-tuh (eine Toilette)
Where is a toilet?	VO ist ai-nuh twa-LET-tuh? (Wo ist eine Toilette?)

DIRECTIONS

The answer to your question "Where is such and such?" may be "To the right" or "To the left" or "Straight ahead," so you need to know these phrases.

To the right nahkh RESHTS (nach rechts)

To the left nahkh LINKS (nach links)

In the word NAHKH you heard a sound you must practice. It is written in your Language Guide as kh. Listen to the word again and repeat: NAHKH, NAHKH. It is like clearing your throat when you have to spit. Try just the sound again: kh, kh.

Straight ahead guh-RA-duh-OWSS (geradeaus)

It is sometimes useful to say "Please show me."

ow as in now; ai as in aisle or ice

FILL-IN SENTENCES

In this section you will find a number of sentences, each containing a blank space which can be filled in with any one of the words in the list that follows. For example, to say "Where can I get some soap?" look for the phrase "Where can I get___?" in the English column and find the German expression given beside it: VO kahn ish___buh-KAWM-men. Then look for "soap" in the list that follows; the German word is ZAI-fuh. Put the word for "soap" in the blank space and you get VO kahn ish ZAI-fuh buh-KAWM-men?
