

A New Look in Rugs

Something new in room dividers are Area rugs designed by Raymond Loewy to define areas of activity within a room; dining sections, TV corners for example. Sophisticated but adaptable to almost all interiors, the new rugs come in such decorator colors as pink, lime green, turquoise. Produced by Edward Fields, texture interest comes from hand tufting. Opposite is "Legend."

Quick

October 14, 1953
p.53