

HARPER'S BAZAR

November, 1918:p. 66

GIFTS FOR the WOMAN in SERVICE at HOME and ABROAD

With the Liberty Loan Drive successfully over, we may turn our thoughts to Christmas and still continue our patriotic service. For the Government asks us to do our Christmas shopping now, in order to avoid railroad congestion later on. Will you sit down to-day with your Bazar, make your selections, and send us your order? If you enclose your card, we shall be glad to mail the gifts directly to the recipients for you, thus saving a second handling of the packages in transportation.

Her wrist watch is a most important part of the war worker's outfit, and it must be durable. A good-looking watch of nickel on a strap of khaki-colored leather, with jewel Swiss movement, luminous dial, and second hand. Price is $8.7.

If undecided what to give the girl whose war work takes her out-of-doors, here is an unlined jacket of tan or gray suede that will keep her warm, because of its fabric, and make her look swagger because of its pockets and belt. And it costs $27.50.

The woman who travels in these days of luggage conservation will be delighted to receive the regulation nurses' locker trunk. Being thirty-six inches long, it accommodates a skirt full length. Covered with vulcanized fiber and riveted throughout. $18.

Make it an umbrella—choose one of these smart English affairs of blue silk, with chunky pigskin handle and leather wrist strap, costing $8. Or the service umbrella of blue or khaki silk, bearing one service star on its handle. $10.
